He concluded by advising his young friends to avoid the intoxicating cup. He died penitent, hoping for forgiveness from man and from his God.

A MONG the numerous discoveries Science made in this generation to facilitate the business of life, increase its enjoyment, and even prolong the of life, increase its enjoyment, and even protong the term of human existence, none can be named of more real value to mankind, than this contribution of Chemistry to the Heating Art. A vast trial of its virtues throughout this broad country, has proven, beyond a doubt, that no medicine, or combination of medicines, yet known, can so surely control and cure the numerous varieties of pulmonary disease which have hitherto swept from our midst thousands and thousands every year. Indeed, there is now abun-dant reason to believe a Remedy has at length been found, which can be relied on, to cure the most dan-gerous affections of the lungs. Our space here will not permit us to publish any proportion of the cures affected by its use, but we would present the following, and refer further inquiry to my American Almanac, which the agent below named will always be and indisputable proof of these statements.

OPPICE OF TRANSPORTATION,

Laurens R. R., S. C. Aug. 4, 1853.

Dear Sir: My little son, four years old, has just recovered from a severe attack of malignant Scarlet Fever; his throat was rotten, and every person that visited him pronounced him a dead child. Having used your Cherry Pectoral in California, in the winter of 1850, for a severe attack of Bronchitis, with entire success, I was induced to try it on my little boy. I gave him a teaspoon-full every three hours, commencing in the morning, and by ten o'clock at night I found a decided change for the better, and after three days' use, he was able to eat or drink without pain. le proof of these statements.

Its use in the above-named disease will save many Its use in the above-named disease will save many a child from a premature grave, and relieve the anxiety of many a fond parent. For all affections of the Throat and Lungs, I believe it the best medicins extant. A feeling of the deepest gratitude prompts me in addressing you these lines; but for your important discovery, my little boy would now have been in another world. I am yours with great respect,

J. C. Aver.

Rock Hill, Somerset Co., N. J.,

July 21, 1852.

Sir: Since your medicine has become known here, it has a greater demand than i ny other cough remedy we have ever sold. It is spoken of in terms of unmeasured praise by those who have used it; and I know of some cases where the best they can say of it is not too much for the good it has done. I take pleasure in selling it, because I know that I am giving my customers the worth of their money, and I feel gratified in seeing the benefit it confers.

Please send me a further supply, and believe me Yours, with respect, John. C. Whitlock.

P. S. Almost any number of certificates can be sent you, if you wish it.

Dr. J. C. Ayer.

Windsor, C. W., June 26, 1852.

Sir. This may certify that I have used your Cherry Pectoral for upwards of one year, and it is my sincere belief that I should have been in my grave ore this time if I had not. It has cured me of a danger ous affection of the lungs, and I do not overstate my convictions when I tell you it is a priceless remedy. Yours, very respectfally,

D. A. McCullin, Attorney at Law.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is clusted by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

FORRIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS.

FORRIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOLDS, of every style, all of the best qualities, and for which we shall have one price only.

We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to retain all the trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubt less we shall have a large accession of new customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price system is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will, after an impartial examination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and vast advantages to the purchaser resulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system; it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser, for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in prices.

Our scale of prices will be so low, and the profits so small, that we cannot and will not sell but for the cash or to customers who pay promptly. For those who purchase very largely, or to sell again, reductions will be made. ions will be made.

The public are cordially and most respectfully in ited to call at all times and examine our stock.

BACUN'S MERICANTILE & OLLEGE,

Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnut streets,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

THE undersigned has removed his Mercantile College to his new building, northwest corner of Walnut and Sixth streets, where he has fitted up a splendid suite of rooms, expressly for his business—having spared neither pains nor expense in making them in every respect the most conveniont and pleasant school rooms in the United States.

The plan adopted in teaching combines practice with theory; instead of using books, the pupils are exercised in making original entries of every-day business transactions. Journalizing, posting, balancing accounts, opening and closing of a great variety of different sets of books, both for partnership and individual business, where the business has been prosperous and adverse; and thus qualifying the student for entering into the practical duties of the accountant, in any kind of business.

The course of instruction will consist of Double-entry Book-keeping, embracing every department of trade and mercantile accounts, viz: Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Shipping, Individual, Partnership, Steamboating, and Compound Co. Business. Commercial Calculations, Practical Pennansaip, and Lectures on Commercial Law; also, Lectures on the Science of Accounts, Custom of Merchants, etc.

In addition to the rogular course of study, the undersigned has made arraogements with Henry Snow, Esq. Hon. Bellamy Storer, Prof. C. W. Wright, and other eminent lecturers, to deliver a course of Lectures on the subjects of Commercial Law, History of Commerce, Political Economy as connected with commerce, and other subjects of great importance in a commercial point of view, and never before introduced in any Mercantile College in the United States.

Public examinations are had, (though pupils are examined privately, if they desire it, when the trudent undergors rigid an thorough interrogations by the Princ pal, (assisted by a committ

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE.—The examination of the students in Book-keeping exhibited a degree of proficiency on their part highly creditable to themselves and Mr. Bacon their instructor.

The most difficult problems in Double Entry were as rapidly solved as the most simple, giving ample proof to the audience that the informat on imparied during the session would be of practical benefit.

The various complex questions proposed by the Principal and other gentlemen present were answered with great promptitude and conciseness, which reflects great credit upon the course of study pursued at this partitude.

From the Cincinnati Daily Times.

Mr. Bacon's school is in a flourishing condition, and the patronage extended it is a high compliment to the thorough mercantile education there imparted. From the Chillicothe Ancient Metropolis of May 8, Mr. Bacon is unrivalled as a teacher—a diploma from his College, in Cincinnati, is required as a sine qua non in obtaining situations in the best mercantile houses in large cities.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, Nov. 8, 1853. Mr. Bacon has constructed the upper portion of his building expressly for the purposes of his College, and, without any doubt, it is the most complete ar-rangement of the kind in the United States.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

This whole institution is undoubtedly the most elegant and finished establishment, for its purposes, in the world. A REFORMATORY PAPER FOR CHILDREN THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Edited by Uncle Lucius, Syracuse, N. Y. THE want of a paper for children, of a reformatory character, has long been felt. The juvenile papers of our land do not meet the demands of the community. They please the eye and interest the reader, but do not instruct and enlighten the mind with reference to the great sins of the day. Reformers! The Juvenile Instructor is intended to meet this demand. It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.

It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.

Her writings for children are already known and admired by many. Illustrations will be given in every number. No reasonable expense will be spared to make it attractive.
